

HOSPITAL STAFF AID TO DOCTORS

Close Association Keeps Profession On Higher Plane.

This is the third of a series of articles dealing with the progress made by the Marion City hospital and local doctors in a movement to organize a staff here and gain for the institution the recognition of the American College of Surgeons. Earlier articles have dealt with the history of the movement and its advantages to the patients. This article lists advantages to physicians and surgeons of a well organized staff and a standardized hospital.

Marion medical men are given an ideal to which they may well aspire in the requirements for membership on the City hospital staff under rules of the American College of Surgeons, leading doctors in the staff movement say.

As in all professions, the mercenary interest is apt to play an important part in the daily practice of medicine if physicians and surgeons are not constantly reminded of the fact that the profession of medicine is a noble one, and that the monthly salary which members of the staff receive is a small compensation for the greater efficiency and better up-to-date knowledge which the medical profession has attained.

Better Equipment
One of the most direct advantages which hospital standardization has brought the physician is the added equipment and the diagnosis and treatment of his patients. Not only does he have the benefit of expensive equipment, but he has the advantage of the hospital's laboratory, which he himself cannot afford.

With the hospital staff available, the physician is able to secure the services of the best of the profession, and the patient is able to secure the services of the best of the profession. The hospital staff is a well organized staff and a standardized hospital.

By a closer understanding among physicians, a greater cooperation within the profession, and a better understanding of the hospital staff, the hospital staff can be held in check.

Period To Begin July 8; Plans Are Practically Complete, Arthur Brooks, Area Executive Says; Staff Named.

For the opening of the season will close July 15. The camp is to be operated on a troop basis instead of the individual plan. The camp period will be from July 8 to July 15, and if a group of 8 boys with a registered scoutmaster enroll, they will each receive a 10 percent discount on the fee. The troop scoutmaster will have the right to carry on a large part of the troop work, and will be cooperating with the camp work in this manner. The troop does not lose its significance and the spirit and atmosphere of the camp is maintained.

POLICE DEPARTMENT GETS 2 NEW RIFLES

High-Powered Guns Added to Equipment Through Efforts of Captain.

Two high-powered rifles, the result of a drive made by the police some time ago to obtain additional firearms, have been added to the equipment of the police department.

The guns are of a type made especially for police work and are said to shoot accurately for a half-mile. They shoot a 30.06 steel jacketed or a soft nose bullet and in recent tests made by Police Captain Ira Shown and Sergeant DeWeese the steel jacketed bullet is said to have passed entirely through a row of 14 eight inch telephone poles and embedded itself in the fifteenth.

The police officials said they were well pleased with the work of the new arms and it is possible that a third will be added later.

Captain Shook late last year, while serving as chief, started a campaign to obtain additional fire arms. Funds were solicited from business men and others to purchase a machine gun, when the amount obtained, however, fell below that necessary to obtain a machine gun, the money was used to purchase the two rifles instead.

An Awful Heat Toll.
The wren this morning told us that the searing temperatures from which the country has been suffering for the past seven or eight days have claimed over 700 human lives, to say nothing of the heavy loss in livestock and growing crops, and that there was no hope for relief in sight before tonight or Thursday.
What the total life toll of the present spell of torrid weather may be can not be other than a matter for conjecture, but if it does not go measurably higher than what it at present is, contemplation of it is appalling.

Yet, although the present spell of extreme heat may have been longer and caused greater loss of human life than any previously experienced in this country, it will not do to say—as has been said—that the temperatures reported during it are without parallel. As a matter of fact, many higher temperatures were reported two years ago—many temperatures far higher, although it is only fair to say that they did not continue over so many days or come quite so early in the year.

However, higher temperatures were recorded at this time of the year twenty years ago and over fully as great an area. Our files show that twenty years ago tomorrow, the temperature recorded here in Marion was 100, and on July 4 thirty-three years ago—we believe it was thirty-three years ago—Ohio experienced the hottest day in its recorded history of temperatures up to that time, many thermometers showing from 115 to 117 degrees in the shade.

Twenty speakies were raided and thirty-two men arrested early yesterday as the city, is urging a loan of $5,000,000 to finance federal unemployment relief, the loan to be repaid in increased incomes and inheritance taxes. Should Norman contribute dollars in proportion to the advice he offers on how to run the country there would be little need for unemployment relief, unless, of course, the majority of the citizenship was converted to dole drawing.

A Remarkable Flight.

With every indication that they will succeed in negotiating their globe-encircling flight of 15,000 miles within ten days, the world may well prepare to pay its acclaim to Wiley Post and Harold Gatty. Something of tribute may also be said for their plane, the Winnie May.

The globe has been encircled by plane here-before—the United States navy fliers having blazed the way—but previous feats in the way of around-the-world flights are not to be compared with the Post-Gatty exploit. In elapsed time, in length of hops, in average speed in the air, it has surpassed all the globe-around feats which have preceded it, and their plane shares with the Southern Cross in the distinction of having traveled over the two antarctic oceans.

What the gain to aviation may be as the result of the present flight, other than the very obvious demonstration of the capability of the plane as a means of quick transportation, we are not prepared to say, but if there is gain to be had from it other than stated, all the more honor to the two aviators who are today nearing their goal.

The New Fiscal Year.

The federal government starts on a fresh ledger today. From now on, income and expenditures will be as of the fiscal year 1931-32.

It is not like wiping the slate clean and making a fresh start, however. A deficit of more than $850,000,000 remains from the last fiscal year to plague treasury officials. It is the largest ever recorded in any peace-time year, and the first recorded since 1919.

The people, though not bothered greatly by the existence of such a huge deficit, should like to have it cleared away before it becomes any larger. To understand how this may be brought about, it is well to conceive of governmental finances in terms of revenues and costs.

The treasury derives its income from four sources. The following table shows the relative income in the last two fiscal years, the figures representing millions of dollars

	1930	1931
1—Income Tax .....	2,411	1,855
2—Customs Receipts .....	587	583
3—Internal Revenue .....	428	571
4—Miscellaneous .....	552	525
Total .....	4,178	3,534

The obvious importance of the table are the decreases in income taxes and customs receipts it reveals, both of which can be attributed to the depression.

A parallel table shows what happened in costs of governments during the same two years. Like the income figures costs figures may be grouped under four headings:

	1930	1931
1—Ordinary Expenses .....	2,162	2,355
2—Payments on Debt .....	1,213	1,023
3—Special Accounts .....	320	537
4—Miscellaneous .....	299	276
Total .....	3,994	4,193

"Ordinary expenses" have increased, largely because of larger appropriations for the department of agriculture and the bureau of veterans' administration. The increase in "special accounts" is due to liberalizing veterans' loan legislation and the federal farm board.

The estimated income of $2,334,000,000 in 1931 give a deficit of approximately $850,- 000,000.

From these figures there can be drawn only one conclusion: income and expenses must be brought closer together. The prospect for the new fiscal year shows another deficit unless this is accomplished.

The administration has proposed a suspension of debt payments, which will further decrease the income under the "miscellaneous" heading. War veterans may they are ready to ask for further liberalizing legislation.
Business remains in the doldrums, and income taxes probably will remain below the customary level again this year. Customs receipts can not be expected to overcome the expected differences, even if there should be a vast increase in them.

Taxes will have to go up or expenses will have to come down or they will have to meet each other halfway. The American people plainly do not want their government to proceed on the principle that huge deficits are part of the game.

"The world today is a bed of sickness," says Sir Arthur Keith, "and there is no lack of physicians standing around the patient." Are we to assume that there is disagreement regarding the ethical treatment for what ailing it?

According to Dean Stone, going to college and getting an education are not always a synonymous terms. True. But college life almost always enables young America to pick up a few social hints and practices and gives an insight into athletics.

Distance Being Eliminated.

If there were less of an exciting nature to occupy attention right now, the part transatlantic telephony is playing in the important drama of debt negotiations between the United States and Europe would receive more attention. As it is, the almost instantaneous communication that is piling one development on another with breath-taking rapidity is taken for granted. Comparatively few people realize exactly what it means for President Hoover to be able to communicate privately with Secretary Mellon, or Ambassadors Sackett and Edge in Europe merely by lifting a receiver off a hook. The transatlantic telephone will be firmly established as a means of delivering vitally important diplomatic instructions by the time the negotiations are complete.

Speedier communication with other countries takes on a new importance, so fast it grows.
Pictures taken of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty when they landed in Chester, England, last Wednesday are being speeded to New York by fast boat. Yet, the two aviators themselves promise to land again at Roosevelt field after their flight around the world before their pictures are received in this country.

Once, messengers spent months on sailing ships going from one country to another.
Then steamships and cables speeded communication. Faster ships, better cable service followed, and now the transatlantic telephone and the radio.

"Battle Bandits in Bank. Police Capture Two. Attempt to Rob Institution Fails." reads a headline over a story from Frankfort, Illinois. "Four Bandits Rob Bank. Two Taken. Loot Recovered," reads another over a dispatch from New Orleans. Some system to work like that both north and south and on the same day.

The writer who holds that the metropolis is in vastly greater danger from New York than it is from communism probably has been reading up on Tammany Hall.

According to a story from Lincoln, Nebraska, what the drought has done to the crops of the northern part of that state and South Dakota, a plague of grasshoppers is doing. Scanty crops for three years have left the farmers out there in such shape that they are unable to buy the poison necessary to combat the plague and state aid is being administered. If it isn't one thing, it is another, to take the joy out of the hearts of the tillers of the soil.

CAUGHT IN THE FLOOD.

Editorial Opinion.

WOMEN IN AVIATION

Ruth Nichols' plan to fly her airplane to Europe nearly cost her her life. In landing at St. John, New Brunswick, she wrecked her plane and cracked two of the vertebrae in her spine. From her hospital bed she has announced that she will resume the flight as soon as she recovers from her injuries and her plane is repaired. It is to be hoped that she will change her mind.

There is no question of the ability of women to pilot planes and to handle them ably under ordinary circumstances. But such feats as ocean crossings place a strain upon physical and nervous reserves which women can not hope to withstand.

If Helen Wills Moody is the best woman tennis player in the world there are still a couple of thousand and probably many more men who can defeat her unflinchingly. The same is true of the ablest of the women athletes in all branches of sport. They are good, but they can not keep pace with the experts among the men.

The great feats in aviation call for the Tildena's Bobby Joneses, the Babe Ruths of flying. They demand a degree of physical strength and endurance to nervous fatigue which even the strongest and most capable of women do not possess. Had Ruth Nichols taken off from Europe she might have reached her goal, but the chance against her were far greater than should be taken. She and other women should be discouraged from such ventures, undertaken as advertising stunts for slackers who take no risks.—Chicago Tribune.

CHURCH AND DRAMA

The collapse of the Church and Drama League of America, an organization nationwide in its scope, will be regretted in many quarters. There are none too many agencies sincerely enlisted in the cause of sane uplift, whether it has to do with the theater or something else. Nevertheless, the causes leading up to the league's demise indicate some of the tribulations encountered by almost every movement which aims to save humankind from its folies.

The Church and Drama League had its share of unfortunate experiences, among which was the loss of prestige it suffered through the ill-advised controversy it waged at one time with the motion-picture industry. But the real reason for its passing appears to be contained in the statement of a director of the league that it was not making much progress in the work it had set out to do. This was to "stimulate an extensive and intelligent interest in the drama as a social force and as an educational influence," partly by recommending worthwhile plays to its membership, and suggesting their attendance thereat.

With the passing of years it is still as true as ever, perhaps a little more so in this age of over-bested independence of thought, that inducing a horse to water is one thing, and inducing it to drink quite another.—Detroit Free Press

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Saturday, July 1.
Miss Lottie Ruth Campbell and Mr. Virgil James Booth were married in the home of the bride's parents in Windsor street by Rev.
J. W. Miles.

The Star reported the births of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Schweg, of Davis street, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Augus-stein, residing east of the city; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmidt, of St. James street, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, of Wood street and a son to Mr. and Mrs.
John Sells, of Mary street.

President James J. Phillips, of the Marion Retail Merchants' association, selected a committee of five, but did not name his selections, to launch a movement for a local chamber of commerce.

While sitting in his home on west Church street, Earl Rousner was struck in the head by a stray bullet, which did not penetrate his skull. Another bullet went through a window of the Marion City hospital on Blaine avenue.
Mrs. A. H. Honefanger and daughter, Evelyn, returned from a ten-day visit with relatives in Portsmouth.

George E. Dwyer, was selected by the county commissioners to serve out the unexpired term of County Surveyor Edward S.
Ault, who resigned.

Snuff of Marion, with an average of 725 in fifteen games, stood second in the list of Ohio State league pitchers. Linderbeck, Mechan, Cooper and Colligan, all of Marion, were batting 300 or better.

The new weights and measures law went into effect.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rowlands, of Pennsylvania avenue.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hixon of Herr street.

Marion, with Cooper pitching, defeated Hamilton, thirteen to one, and tied Portsmouth for first place in the league race.

Arthritis and Infections.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Many persons confuse rheumatic pains with pain caused by arthritis. Arthritis is an inflammation of a joint. It is accompanied by severe pain which is aggravated by walking.
Rheumatic pain may involve the joint, but it is more likely to strike the muscles of the body.

Arthritis is usually seen in people of advanced years. It rarely attacks the young. It is one of the usual ailments of neglected age.
Its prevention should be of interest to all who are anxious to do away with physical pain and deformity.

All cases of arthritis must be considered as infections. By this is meant that the inflammation of the joint is caused by the action of bacteria. Where do these bacteria come from?
Hygiene of the mouth, particularly the care of the teeth and gums, is still greatly neglected by the vast majority of people. Most cases of arthritis indicate poor hygiene of the mouth and grossly-neglected teeth.

Periodic examination of the teeth, with regular X-ray examination of all dead teeth and others suspected of being decayed, is most important. There is no doubt that neglected teeth and disorders of the gums left untreated lead to serious disease in other parts of the body. A bad mouth is a common cause of arthritis.

Infected teeth and tonsils should be removed. Age is no factor and it is just as important for an elderly individual to have infected tonsils removed as it is for a child. As I have repeatedly stated, I do not advocate the ruthless removal of teeth or tonsils, but if they are diseased, there should be no hesitation about their removal.

In addition to the removal of all possible centers of infection, it is important to correct faulty habits in personal hygiene. Improper food, constipation, lack of exercise, of sunshine and fresh air, are to be considered among the causes of chronic arthritis.

Please remember that arthritis can not be cured by salves or ointments. A general survey of the entire body is necessary to discover the cause. When that is removed you may hope for the elimination and prevention of this irritating and undesirable disease.
Treatment directed toward the general health of the body, particularly the teeth, tonsils diet and mode of living, will insure relief.

Earth's Air Shells.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

The recent spectacular flight of the Winnie May, and Charles Kipper in a balloon, which broke all altitude records for human passengers, has focused popular attention upon problems having to do with the upper air. For centuries there have been those engaged in studying these problems. But only very recently has the general public showed any interest in the matter. Now when it is made of the cosmic radiation, the troposphere and the Heaviside layer, the layers of the earth's atmosphere, the troposphere, the stratosphere and the ionosphere, the boundary between them has been called the tropopause.

The lower surface of the stratosphere is only approximately a sort of spherical shell, for there are considerable variations in its height above the earth. Roughly it is estimated to be at 20,000 feet above the poles and 5,000 feet above the equator. On the basis of observation and calculation, Oliver Heaviside, the English scientist, in 1902 concluded that the layer, but unknown, levels there existed in every region or layer, to which has been given a name. According to Heaviside, this layer prevents radio signals from passing out into space. The radio signals meet the Heaviside layer and are reflected back to the earth. More recent investigations indicate that there are several such layers, all of which lie far above the stratosphere.

During the war it was universally believed that the temperature decreases as height above the earth increases, and without limitation so far as was known. Finally there was made, about the time Heaviside discovered his layer, one of the most astounding discoveries in the history of meteorology. Scientists in France and Germany almost simultaneously discovered that whereas decrease of temperature goes along with increase in height in the lower part of the atmosphere, in the regions above a very different law holds. In this upper region, the thermometer registers a slight increase of temperature with ascent, but later at even greater heights the temperature becomes and remains approximately constant.

Within the inner layer it has been found that the temperature falls off with height at the rate of about three degrees Fahrenheit per 1,000 feet. Just how thick this inner layer is we do not know. In the center layer temperatures depend upon the balance between incoming and outgoing radiation. According to a number of scientists, this balance remains substantially constant.

One of the fascinating problems to be solved is how thin or rarefied the air is. In his dy-namical theory of gases, Sir James Jeans, on the basis of a number of reasonable assumptions, has computed that at a height of 1,990 miles the air is so rarefied that a cubic centimeter contains only about 300,000 molecules of air. In the lower atmosphere the number of molecules in a cubic centimeter is the enormous figure represented by the numeral 3 followed by nineteen zeros. This is ten trillion times as much as the other. It is really surprising beyond words that there is any air at all at the height of 1,990 miles.

Much of our knowledge regarding the tropo-sphere and the stratosphere has been gained by means of captive balloons containing scientific recording devices, but no human passenger. Professor Piccard, astounded the world by breaking all altitude records, and ascending to the height of almost ten miles.
One pilot sent up in 1913 from the coast of Greenland possibly ascended to the extreme altitude of twenty-four miles. In September, 1930, one sent up near Hamburg, Germany, is believed on very good evidence to have ascended certainly as high as twenty-two miles.
Sounding balloons give much promise of future developments in the study of the stratosphere. And the fact for the reason that they can ascend to so much greater altitudes than can a human being.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

Underfoot Ohio.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

Four thousand feet of stratified rock underlying Ohio have been studied in outcroppings or explored by the drill, all formed of course by sedimentation from water, and the lines of the strata lie practically level. That is to say that the forces of nature by which the vast mass was finally lifted above the water in which it was formed were so gently exerted that it was not broken. There was no lateral thrust by which strata are broken, folded and pushed up in mountain ranges.

If one could go deep enough no doubt he would come upon the old unstratified rocks that constitute the foundations of the earth, with marks showing them to have cooled from a molten state at some age of the world. The portion of the earth's surface included within Ohio is among the stables and safest of the entire surface. There are no marks in it of violent earthquake action, and such marks are unmistakable and undeniable.

Our state has not a mountain in it, nor even a hill of notable height. The maximum variation in level is but 1100 feet, and this small item of relief in the state's topographical map is due almost wholly to erosion, that slow process of nature which best proves the truth of the scientific saying that nature is greatest in small things.

The run-off of the rain—that part of the rainfall that does not seep directly into the earth, but runs into the creeks and rivers, carrying surface material in suspension as it goes along, cutting and washing the face of the land, and this force acting in an extreme ly slow way through incredible stretches of time, has been the agency which has given to the rural scenery of our state for the most part, the pleasing variation of relief that makes it vastly more attractive than the dead levels of the decidedly prairie states.

Federal Sleuths After Fake Stock Operators

In General Campaign Against Racketeers; Purpose of Drive Is To Get Local Authorities in Action.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 1—Federal agents against racketeers and stock operators, which have just been launched, include a campaign to show local authorities how to handle such cases. Attorney General Mitchell told the United Press today.

Attorney General Clegg, after opening a racket on a huge scale in New York, finally was captured by federal agents and is to be sentenced July 10 to 15 years in prison for racketeering. Several of his lieutenants also have been caught in the federal campaign. New York racketeers have been similarly caught by federal officers who used the income tax laws to get men who had brazenly defied local authorities for years.

After Stock Fakers
Now face stock operators, sellers of fraudulent securities who can be caught using the mails in their operations, are to be run down. "Nothing is worse," Mitchell said, "than to take the savings of people with worthless securities."

In announcing this campaign, Attorney General Mitchell said that in all cases the racketeer must be largely one for local handling, but that where it is possible to find grounds for federal action, an effort will be made to assist local authorities.

"We hope the effect of these activities will be to arouse local authorities to act themselves," Attorney General Mitchell told the United Press.

All of this activity, involving cooperation of at least three government departments, is by way of carrying out President Hoover's own ideas. Months ago he gave notice of such a program, at the same time declaring that the only way criminal gangs could be broken up seemed to be by federal prosecution for failure to pay income taxes on their criminally obtained profits.

President's Viewpoint
Mr. Hoover is much concerned over what he regards as the breakdown of local government in many places. Just as he regards state governments as laboratories of experiment in new ideas of government, he also regards the federal government as being in a position to point the way to local communities in ridding themselves of criminal gangs.

But local politicians are often led up tightly in the graft of racketeers, or else they are terrorized so that they will not assist the authorities in running down the gangs.

Farm Board Promises Aid for Grain Trade

Respond to Appeals of Growers and Traders with Announcement That Limit Will Be Placed on Sales for Year.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 1—Wheat growers and traders who have been appealing to President Hoover for protection in the domestic market today had a promise of assistance from the farm board.

It was that the grain stabilization corporation would limit the sales of wheat from July 1, 1932, until a year from today to a cumulative maximum of 2,000,000 bushels a month.

Sales to foreign governments or their agencies now being considered were excepted by the board, as were sales for the purpose of clearing trade channels for other efficient merchandising purposes. These it was assumed, would be promptly replaced by purchase of an equal quantity of wheat.

Aim to Sustain Prices
Furthermore, the board promised the sales program would be so managed as not to depress price movements.

Immediate sales "even of those limited amounts" were not contemplated, the board said, at the present stage of prices.

At the same time, however, the board was warned that ultimate profitable wheat production rests with him. Citing an increase in the surplus, the board urged as the "only final solution of the wheat growers' difficulty" a sharp reduction in the forthcoming wheat plantings.

"Without such reduction there is little hope of any long term continued profitable wheat production in the United States in competition with new wheat countries abroad," the board asserted. "With such action there would be an immediate reflection in increased prices of this year's crop."

Past Activity Defended
A defense of the federal agency's activity was contained in the statement, which said in part: "The situation today would have been clear and prices at much higher levels had the recommendation of a year ago been more generally followed."

Nevertheless, it added, "the purchase of wheat from the 1929 and 1930 crops has successfully protected American agriculture from the worldwide panic in agricultural prices, and gave it an opportunity to readjust itself without the enormous losses and bankruptcy which would have resulted from the precipitous fall in prices which took place elsewhere."

WHY ORDER COAL NOW?

Because prices are at the lowest point of the season, and quality is always better when there is a slow movement of coal.

Because the Railroads have applied for an increase of 15% in rates, and there is a possibility of this rate becoming effective in a very short time. It would raise the price of Pocahontas coal 35c per ton; West Virginia Coal 32c, and Ohio Coal 25c per ton.

COOL BREEZES FROM WEST DUE FRIDAY

Five Die in East Liverpool as Temperature of 112 Is Recorded.

early today, Mrs. Ella Thomas, 34, drowned.

In Cleveland anyone without the price of a bed had a place to sleep last night, under police protection. Police estimated that 18,000 slept in the parks and on the beaches along Lake Erie. In Bay Village policemen were confronted with a traffic problem involving 6,000 persons who tried to cool off on the beaches there.

Clayton S. Faust, 69, Circleville farmer, died of heat prostration near his home. His body was discovered when relatives became alarmed at his failure to appear for his evening meal.

A heart attack superinduced by the heat caused the death at Patakal of George Conklin, retired painter, whose body was found along the highway near Newark today by a driver.

July came today with a record heat wave still prevailing in many sections of the country.

West Is Cooler

Temperate relief, which came to North Dakota and Minnesota yesterday, was on its way to the other central states today—but would hardly arrive before tonight or Thursday, weather forecasters said. And as the cooler weather came, it apparently pushed the heat wave farther into the east and south where yesterday heat records were broken in Virginia, Pennsylvania, the Carolinas and Georgia. No relief appeared for these states.

But the promise of relief in the midwest seemed short lived. Comparing his records, the weather man said they showed that hot June was followed, two out of three, by torrid July.

Total deaths attributable to the heat during the last 24 hours, including drownings and one youth killed in an electrical storm at St. Louis, were estimated at approximately 230. Total deaths for the current heat wave were set at about 769.

To the midwest farmers, the forecast of cooler weather, came as good news. They have seen their crops withered and scorched by the sun, their livestock drop dead.

Post delayed his start until police had cleared the street of spectators of whom several hundred were on hand despite the early hour.

Rare Disease Threatens Five in One Family

By The Associated Press

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 1—An indigent family of five is under quarantine here for the first cases of glanders in humans that local health authorities say have been reported in the entire county in 10 years.

E. A. Mulford, 40, a daughter Clara, 11, and a son, Billy, 9, have positive cases of the rare and often fatal disease, according to Dr. K. M. Kelley, Miller county health officer, and Mrs. Mulford, 43, and another son, Ernest, 12, are being watched for developments.

AWAITS ACTION OF GRAND JURY

Morehart, 23, Confesses Sheriff After Several Hours Grilling.

Special to The Star
GILEAD, July 1.—Glenn Morehart, 23, is lodged in the Morrow county jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury, following his arrest in connection with the attack on Mrs. Mary Ellis near Caledonia on Friday night of June 8.

Ellis was beaten with a hammer which was later found near the home. The attack occurred near midnight shortly after the woman's husband, B. Morehart, returned from Gallion where he had been on business.

Morehart was arrested yesterday afternoon and confessed after several hours questioning by Sheriff C. E. Miller and Deputy Sheriff J. Bennett. He was arraigned before Justice W. M. Kaufman on a charge of assault and battery and over to the grand jury which will not be in session again until a special session is called.

Attorney Fannie Morehart stated today that she will appear for a special session. The grand jury will be called in Gallion and until then Morehart will remain in the jail.

Employed on Farm
Morehart, who has been in the Morrow county jail since June 9, stated today that a blood-stained hammer was found on the bed of the house where the attack took place. Mrs. Ellis was sleeping at the time of the attack and this hammer was the one which made the attack. The prints of all the persons in the house the night of June 8 were taken and though the prints on the bed could not be positively identified as Morehart's, the owner information secured from Mrs. Ellis led Miller to suspect him. Morehart is a half-brother of Mr. Ellis and has been employed on the farm at various times for several years, making his home with the family.

Calvary is in a mid-season slump which threatens to wreck its hopes to regain the recreation ball championship of Sunday School League No. 1.

Last night Calvary lost its second straight game and is now tied for the leadership with St. Mary's. The Evangelical team won the first five games this season and it began to look like past history was to be rewritten.

Epworth Seniors pulled the big act with the leaders last night. It was a contest full of heavy slugging and a final count of 9 to 6 was turned in. Epworth turned in 16 hits while Calvary touched Corwin of Epworth for 11 bingles. Homeers were socked by Baldauf, Robbins and Gibson of Calvary and Marley and Epworth. Gruber and Messenger did the hitting for the losers.

St. Mary's went into a tie for first place by turning in one of the two shutout victories scored last night. The Saints defeated the Lutherans 1 to 0 in one of the hardest fought tilts on the program. Kochensperger held the Irish to four hits but Robbins was touched for five hits but good fielding kept him out of trouble.

Another shutout victory was turned in by Gamble of Epworth No. 1. He held Trinity Baptist to four hits as his team scored a 2-to-0 victory. Applegett was nipped for six hits. Epworth bunched its hits in the first inning to get two scores. Applegett had the team under control the rest of the game.

Three times scored by Cram, Fetter and Roush the first three men up in the opening inning, gave the Epworth Bishops a 3-to-2 decision over Lee Street. Cram's walk was followed by a single and three-bagger by Fetter and Roush. Edgar's single scored Roush. Leo Street scored in the sixth inning. Butz did the pitching for the winners and Faddy for Lee Street. Calvary 110 040 0-6

DEFENDS TITLE

Battalino Will Fight Bobby Brady in Jersey City.

By The Associated Press
JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 1.—Christopher (Butt) Battalino, of Hartford, Conn., defends his featherweight championship against Irish Bobby Brady, Jersey City puncher, in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Battalino, who surprised the experts by outpointing Kid Chocolate and Fidel LaBarba in his last two title defenses, faces a favorite over Brady. Battalino has been beaten often in non-title fights since he lifted the featherweight crown from Andre Roussis, in 1929, but always has been at his best when the championship was at stake.

LOCALS BEAT MEEKER
MEEKER, July 1.—The recreation ball team from the Marion Woodmen lodge defeated Meeker in a game here Tuesday. The score was 12 to 8.

OPEN TOURNEY FAVORITE

TOMMY ARMOUR

With no Bobby Jones to monopolize honors, they're calling the United States open golf tourney at Toledo Thursday the first real "open" meet in this country in several years. However, Tommy Armour, Detroit pro, rapidly is assuming Bobby's place and is considered "the man to beat" this year.

Bobby Jones To Watch National Open Golfers Fight for Crown

BY ALAN GOULD

By The Associated Press
TOLEDO, O., July 1. The golfing big game is under way here as the crack shots of Great Britain and America, has jumped out of the flying pan into the fire.

This sensational situation may apply to the competition as well as to the weather for the open championship of the United States, starting tomorrow, over the narrow fairways and pleasant deceiving hillocks of the Inverness club. Yesterday ran a temperature of 94 and the prediction was "warmer" for today.

Bobby Jones who began his open competition here and figured conspicuously in two of the hottest tournaments, will select a comfortable, inconspicuous spot tomorrow from which to witness the battle for the third of the four crowns he wore in 1930.

It will be the first time Bobby has ever been on the sidelines for an American open. To judge from the violent character of the advance speculation, as well as the intensive training of the contenders in defiance of the heat wave, the professional clan seems determined to make the most of the Georgian's competitive absence by turning the tournament into a free-for-all.

Tommy Armour already has taken possession of one of the titles held last year by Jones, the British open. The black Scot from Detroit tops the list of favorites here but he is no better than an 8 to 1 choice in a field comprising the best professional talent in this country and Europe.

The consensus among the experts and players today was that the winner, despite the wide open character of the championship chase, could be picked from one of these ten.

Tommy Armour, the P. G. A. and British open champion, Gene Sarazen, the 1922 American open winner, Percy Alliss, the British pro from Berlin, Billie Burke, the Connecticut clubber, MacDonald Smith, the veteran Scot from Long Island, who was runner-up to Jones in both the British and American opens last year, Denham Shute, the Ohio favorite, Walter Hagen, who won his last American open in 1919, Harry Cooper of Chicago, runner-up in 1927, Wiffy Cox, the Brooklyn sharpshooter who has moved up fast this season, and Ed Dudley, the new western open champion.

The field of about 120 players who will play 18 holes tomorrow, another round Friday and then be cut to about 60 for the final 36 holes July 4, includes a dozen British contenders in addition to Alliss, who represents Germany, and Aubrey Boomer, from France.

Commission Blocks N. Y. Bout of Primo Carnera

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, July 1. Primo Carnera has been ordered by the New York state athletic commission to engage in no more boxing bouts in this state without the approval of the commission. The immediate result of this ruling was to force cancellation of a proposed bout between Carnera and Pietro Corti of Italy at Rochester July 6.

The solons did not explain their ruling but it was generally understood they did not consider Corti a suitable opponent for Carnera.

Herman Wins Unpopular Decision Over Mexican

By The Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, July 1. Tommy Herman, Chicago welterweight, was awarded an unpopular 10-round decision here last night over Alfredo Garcia, Mexican champion of Mexico City. There were no knockdowns. Garcia, who weighed 147 and spotted his opponent two rounds, was the favorite with the audience. The crowd hurled rolled paper into the ring after Referee Harry Lee announced the decision.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Able Coleman, New York Jewish heavyweight, drew with Gus Schlegel, former Washington State football star, one-hour "Casey" Kazanjian, ex-Stanford football and track star, won from "Cowboy" Jack Rodgers of Oklahoma. "Hot" Herrin, former St. Mary's college football guard, won from Ivan Zikoff, Russian ruffian.

STRIB PLANS EXTRA ROUND OF TRAINING

Flies Over Champion's Camp; Schmeling Looks Good in Workouts with Panka.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., July 1. Safely back on the ground after a daring airplane ride over his opponent's training camp, Young Stirling hurred new defiance at his handlers today by suddenly announcing he would box again tonight in preparation for his quest of the world's heavyweight championship.

Stirling intended finishing his training last night in accordance with previous plans. All preparations had been made for him to come to Cleveland today and go into seclusion until time for him to go into the ring to battle Max Schmeling the title holder Friday night. But Stirling, full of eagerness to get going, evidently decided to defy his manager, Pa Stirling, just as he did in borrowing an airplane yesterday and flying over Schmeling's training camp at Connaught Lake Park, Pa.

Stirling borrowed a friend's plane in Akron, O., flew over his own training camp at Connaught Lake and then headed toward the Pennsylvania line for Schmeling's camp, 93 miles away. While the German was in the ring, boxing the second round with George Panka of Pittsburgh, Stirling daintily zoomed his plane directly over Schmeling's camp while the spectators gasped in excitement.

Stirling's plane was not more than 200 feet above the spectators. He returned twice to repeat the daring exploit and then swiftly sped back to the Cleveland airport to receive a scolding from his father.

Feeling as frisky as a youngster over his ride in the air, Stirling breezed through two rounds of warming up and two rounds of boxing last night. The drill was nothing more than a breather for the young Georgian.

After tonight's workout, Stirling intends coming into Cleveland to hide out.

Schmeling will wind up his training today, donning the gloves for the last time until he is called into the ring.

When he finishes his boxing this afternoon, he will have boxed an even 100 rounds at his training camp. Schmeling's workout yesterday was impressive. In the three rounds he faced Panka, Schmeling unleashed a two-foot body attack weaving in and out to escape Panka's leads.

The champion, in the one round he boxed, Tony Marullo of New Orleans, practiced one-two punches straight right to the head, left hook and right uppercut. After the workout, Schmeling weighed 190 pounds a pound over the notch he expects to scale when he faces Stirling.

The fight will be broadcast over a Nations Broadcasting Co. network with Graham McNamee at the microphone. Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, consented to McNamee handling the fight, only after it was agreed that Sam Taub, a New York newspaperman, would be allowed to send comment on the air between rounds. Jacobs had not agreed to McNamee broadcasting because of what he termed unwarranted and prejudiced account of McNamee's description of Schmeling's fight with Jack Sharkey, a year ago.

LEADERS HAVE TOUGH SLEDDING IN LEAGUE

As Hold Slight Margin Over Indians; Cards Beat Giants.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
The leaders of the American league, who threatened to leave the other teams so far behind that they would be practically out of sight, have found some tough sledding in the past two weeks.

After rushing far ahead of all the teams except Washington, the champion Philadelphia Athletics have scored just eight victories in the six defeats with Cleveland, highest ranking western team still to be faced twice more.

George Earnshaw turned in his second victory of the tour yesterday as the Athletics' slugging brought an 11-to-7 victory over Cleveland in the series opener. He was pitching badly toward the end, giving nine of the Indians' 12 hits in the last two innings.

Washington was dropped to an even break for the 14 games in the west as the Browns handed them one of their worst beatings of the season by a 7-to-0 count. It was the first time all season the Senators had been shut out. It was the Browns' twelfth victory in 14 games at home against eastern clubs.

Boston, weakest of the eastern clubs, pulled its average up a little by stepping out behind the six-hit pitcher of Danny MacFayden to beat the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 1. Detroit scored three runs in the eleventh after the New York Yankees had tallied twice and won by an 8 to 7 count.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who seem to have the "Indian sign" on their nearest rivals, the New York Giants, increased their lead in the National league race to 3½ games by beating the Giants 11 to 10 for the second victory in the important series. The game was a slugfest which produced 18 hits for the Giants 14 for the Cards and five homers including one by pinch hitter Ethan Allen with the bases full.

The Brooklyn Robins who were threatening third place, dropped back again as the Cincinnati Reds won a close game 4 to 3. Chicago and Boston each picked up a game in this part of the struggle, placing the Cubs a game and a half ahead of the Robins and Boston only a game behind.

Manager Rogers Hornsby accounted for seven runs with a pair of homers as the Cubs walloped the Phillies 14 to 3. Fred Frankhouse pitched the Braves to a 5 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, allowing only five hits.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO GET DELAYED PAY

Auditor Landes Gets $30,000 from Tax Payments to County.

City employees who had become reconciled to receiving no pay until the middle of July, were given a pleasant surprise today when it was announced by City Auditor Landes that the ghost would make its regular bi-monthly amble.

More than $30,000 from tax collections was received by the city today.

Of the $30,183.99, $13,648.48 will be available for salaries and bills. The remainder will be paid into the sinking fund for the retirement of bonds.

Since the greater part of the money will be used to retire bonds, it will be necessary for the auditor to make an advance draw to meet the payroll of the future and pay bills, the $13,648.48 being only enough to meet the present payroll and few of the smaller bills against the city. The advance draw will be made in anticipation of the September settlement.

Ban Against Sunday Ice Delivery Attacked

By International News Service

CINCINNATI, O., July 1.—The extreme hot weather prompted today to result in the pending of a 16-year-old city ordinance which prevents the delivery of ice on Sundays.

Declaring that many Cincinnati families lack facilities to store ice from Saturday to Monday, Mayor Russell Wilson said he would confer with members of the city council in an attempt to have the law altered.

When passed in 1915, the ordinance sought only to assure the ice drivers' union, one day off each week. City officials said they would ask that extra help be obtained to permit delivery daily.

ARE YOU GUILTY OF THE SIN OF EXTRAVAGANCE?

FRESH foods are a big item in the family budget. Their costs dictates absolute economy in buying and handling. It has been estimated that the bill of the United States for food spoilage amounts to more than seven hundred million dollars each year. Are you included in the list helping to pay this sum, or are you among the thrifty persons who have said:

THERE are other equally important reasons why you should install an electric refrigerator in your home immediately. The health of your family cannot be completely safeguarded by old-fashioned methods. Food must be kept fresh. Moreover, because food can be prepared in advance, the convenience which an electric refrigerator brings to modern housekeeping is indispensable. Remember these 3 points about electric refrigeration.

1. Prevents waste of costly food.
2. It protects the family health.
3. It is the home's greatest convenience.

DO NOT FORGET

A reasonable down payment will install an electric refrigerator in your home. You may make the remaining payments while it is working and saving for you.
